Spiritual Communion Prayer

My Jesus

I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament

I love You above all things and I desire to receive You into my soul
Since I cannot at this moment

receive You sacramentally, Come at least spiritually into my heart.

I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You

Never permit me to be separated from You.

Here's the test to find whether your mission on earth is finished: if you are alive it isn't! ~ Richard Bach ~

Glorify the Lord God with your word and even with your body! - said His Beatitude Sviatoslav

The Catechism of our Church speaks of several steps on the way to perfect prayer. Among them are bodily prayer, which encompasses words, gestures, and the physical posture of the body, as well as the prayer of our mind, the prayer of the heart, and the prayer of contemplation. Given that man is a being composed of soul and body, we must first learn to pray with our body. This was emphasized by the Head of the UGCC in the new issue of the video project "His Beatitude Sviatoslav: #clearly_about_complicated".

"When we talk about bodily prayer, we usually mean verbal prayer, as well as our gestures or body posture," said His Beatitude Sviatoslav, explaining that verbal prayer includes both prayer with psalms and texts from prayer books.

The Head of the Church explained the importance of both types of verbal prayer. "Through psalms, the Lord God seems to transform the Word of God into the word of man. And when we pray the psalms, it is as if we begin to speak to God in the divine language, we begin to pray the Word of God," said the Primate.

His Beatitude Sviatoslav also recalled that, in addition to the word, there is also a prayer of gestures, liturgical posture or other bodily dimensions. For example, when we pray the prayer of repentance, we express it in a bodily way with a gesture of kneeling or pre-earthly bows.

At the end of the video catechesis, he also answered the question of how to participate in the Divine Liturgy, which is livestreamed. "Even when we cannot be in the temple due to some serious obstacles, we must pray at home with our body posture, gestures, and even words and singing as if we were in the church," said the Head of the Church.

"Glorify the Lord God with your word, even with your body!" His Beatitude Sviatoslav urged at the end of the catechesis.

We remind you that the video project "Zhyve Television" "His Beatitude Sviatoslav: started on May 16, 2020. In short videos, the Head of the UGCC explains important Christian truths in an accessible way. The first issues are devoted to prayer, in particular, its content and method. You can watch the new issues of the catechism of His Beatitude Sviatoslav on the Zhyve TV channel on YouTube or the Zhyve TV Facebook page every Saturday at 9 p.m.

The Church New Year September 1st

Every time we enter upon another year whether it be civil or ecclesiastical we have the opportunity to reflect upon the past and make changes for a better future. Let us ask ourselves: What practical changes can I make which will allow the Lord to act more in my life? Can I do more in my spiritual life – prayer, study, almsgiving, stewardship? Can we do more as a community – outreach, charity, evangelism? How can I personally and we collectively play a part in making this coming year better than the previous year?

When we cross ourselves, let it be with a real sign of the cross. Instead of a small cramped gesture that gives no notion of its meaning, let us make a large unhurried sign from forehead to breast, from shoulder to shoulder, consciously feeling how it includes the whole of us – our thoughts, our attitudes, our body and soul, every part of us at once – how it consecrates and sanctifies us. It does so because it is the sign of the universe and the sign of our redemption.

How to Trust God's Timing in Your Pain

“My thoughts are nothing like your thoughts,’ says the LORD. ‘And my ways are far beyond anything you could imagine. For just as the heavens are higher than the earth, so my ways are higher than your ways and my thoughts higher than your thoughts’”. Isaiah 55:8-9 (NLT)

When you're in pain and you pray and don't see the answers, should you give up? No. Your job is to keep praying and keep trusting God for the answer, because you know that everything he does and everything he allows in your life, he will use for good. You accept a “No,” a “Slow,” a “Grow,” or a “Go” because you know that God is a good Father, even when you're in pain.

If a doctor performs surgery on you and cuts you open, that's going to cause some pain. But if that surgery saves your life, would you say she's a bad doctor? No, because she just saved your life!

When God doesn't immediately end your pain, he's saying to you in that moment, “My grace is sufficient for you, and you can handle a little pain—and even a lot of pain in your life—because I am with you and I am going to use this for your good.”

I've had a lot of pain in my life. In fact, almost everything I've learned in life, I've learned through pain. I've learned nothing from pleasure. I've learned very little from success. But I've learned boatloads through pain. God is more interested in making me a man of God than he is in making me comfortable. And God is more interested in making you a man or woman of God than he is in making you comfortable in the short-term. You will be comfortable for all of eternity in heaven.

In Scripture, we read, “My thoughts are nothing like your thoughts,’ says the Lord. ‘And my ways are far beyond anything you could imagine. For just as the heavens are higher than the earth, so my ways are higher than your ways and my thoughts higher than your thoughts’” (Isaiah 55:8-9 NLT).

While you're praying at one level, God is thinking about your life at a much higher level and from a much bigger perspective. He wants good for your life even more than you do.
